BMW MOA #7

The Prez Says

By Todd Herbst

It's the time of the season.....

Hello all,
Happy May Day and Cinco de Mayo.
Long live the Margarita! It's sad, but mine only last about 10 minutes.

Anyways, It's time for me to whip all you into Maximus Optimum Volunteerism. That Greek for get out there and help.
We have our club rally coming up in a few weeks and can use as many club members as possible to make the rally run smoothly. Let's not let a few do the work for us all.

In July, The MOA National Rally is in West Bend, Wisconsin.
I've volunteered to be the Cleanliness chairman for the rally which is going to involve gathering volunteers to run around in a golf cart and meet people. Oh yea, also look for garbage problems and other cleanliness problems.

There is apparently a bee/garbage problem at the fairgrounds, so we've also decided to have a group of 5 or 6 people follow a truck and trailer picking up garbage bags, sweeping the whole grounds, twice a day at 8 am and 7 pm. This does not include final clean-up on Sunday which is being done by the Wisconsin Club.
If anyone knows where I can get a cow bell, i'd love walk in front of the trunk ringing the bell yelling "Bring out your Dead!". What do you think? Anybody have a cat I can borrow?

Roland will have sign up sheets for our rally at the May meeting and I'll have sign up sheets for the Cleanliness Crew. Sue Rihn-Manke wants a count of volunteers from our club for my Chair.

Keep the shiny side up,
and keep it clean for cripes sakes.

Reading Material

by Betty Herbst

There's a magazine that I became aware of over the winter. It isn't a new publication so many of you may be already aware of it; Road Runner, Motorcycle Touring & Travel. The primary focus is clearly about a subject that I love; motorcycle travel with articles that provide detailed ride information and suggestions for stops and activities along the route. Other articles such as bike and accessory reviews are thrown in for variety. But here's my favorite part—at the back of the magazine are perforated tank bag sized cards that serve as driving directions for the rides in the articles. Six issues (1 year) can be sent to your home for $24.95. Subscriptions can be placed online at www.RRmotorcycling.com
